

NATIONAL REACH. LOCAL FOCUS.

Maximize our capabilities to realize cost savings and reduce lead times.

Fast-paced, large-scale capital projects require leaders and problem solvers, not just order takers and product peddlers. When it comes to planning and execution, you need a capable partner—one with vast reach and the ability to work with your needs at the local level, one that can provide competitive pricing, industry expertise, reduced lead times and increased cost savings.

YOU NEED FERGUSON INDUSTRIAL.

Our associates are ready, willing and able to contribute to your project's success. We're not just sales associates, we're partners. We go beyond listening, and instead communicate with our customers to fully understand the details and specifications. We're able to do scale these capabilities at a national level, but we pride ourselves in empowering your success at a local level as well. After all, our national footprint means nothing if it can't support the very communities it walks through.

That's why, when one Ohio Valley fertilizer customer and their contractor needed PVF materials delivered to the jobsite quickly, they came to us for assistance. Not only were we able to expedite this customer's orders by utilizing our local distribution center and truck drivers, but we also contributed to huge cost savings by avoiding freight fees and replacement costs. In total, by partnering with Ferguson Industrial and taking advantage of our logistics network, our customer saved more than $500,000 across three months.

When you work with us, you can trust that we'll do everything in our power—turn over every stone, make every call, deliver every product no matter the roadblock—to be the partner your project deserves.
