

ANY CHALLENGE. ANY TIME.

There's no obstacle we can't overcome together.

Storms may impact local areas and regions, but severe weather affects the entire country. More importantly, instances of severe weather—like hurricanes, blizzards and wildfires—can have disastrous effects on your business. BUT THEY SHOULDN'T.

When it comes to severe weather support, there's no better partner than Ferguson Industrial. Thanks to a vast network of distribution centers, a dedicated team of on-call remote associates and 24/7 availability to a wide array of PVF products, we're able to provide the support you need when and where you need it—no matter what.

That's why, when the Gulf Coast powered through freezing temperatures and extended power outages, our customers were powered by Ferguson Industrial. Throughout the month of March, we worked with local businesses to satisfy urgent requests for galvanized pipe and fittings. Thanks to our combined efforts, several chemical and refining customers returned to business faster than they could have expected.

Simply put: We're more than prepared to serve our customers before, during and after any severe weather event. When you work with us, you'll find your business prepared for the worst and expecting the best.

"We were in panic mode for several weeks. We had a tremendous list of parts that we needed to get in as soon as possible, and [Ferguson Industrial] was able to secure quotes that same night. They were on top of everything we needed, and the level of service we received was outstanding. I don't think we'd be running today without them."

"Thanks to their great response, we were able to minimize downtime and the freeze's impact on our site. We appreciate their team for their efforts."
