

Compliance MADE EASY

NEW:

Advanced Antibacterial Hand Soap

In your industry, handwashing matters. It protects your staff, your reputation, and the people you serve. As regulations change, making sure you are using the right soap can be complicated. Ecolab is dedicated to making compliance simple with a new triclosan-free Advanced Antibacterial product line designed to help eliminate bacteria that can pose potential health risks.

FDA Ruling, Effective September 2017

The FDA will no longer allow the use of triclosan in consumer hand wash products in all public spaces in facilities and lodging. Though this does not yet apply to food handler and healthcare environments, this is an opportune time to get ahead of changing regulations and make the switch across your entire facility.

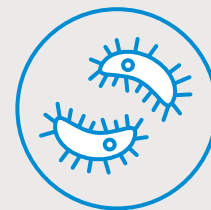

CLEAN HANDS MATTER

Especially in Food Service and Healthcare Environments

2.6 MILLION FOODBORNE ILLNESSES

develop in the U.S. every year from bare-hand contact with food prepared at restaurants*

1 TO 3 MILLION SERIOUS INFECTIONS

occur every year in [long-term care] facilities.†
